PERSONAL PROJECTS

Regression Model on House Prices
 (04/2023 - 05/2023)
- a Regression model on house prices is a valuable tool for understanding and predicting the value of residential properties. It leverages statistical techniques to analyze the relationships between house characteristics and their prices, helping individuals and businesses.

MERN Dashboard (08/2023 - 11/2023)
- A MERN Dashboard is a web-based application that utilizes the MERN stack, which stands for MongoDB, Express.js, React, and Node.js, to create a dynamic and interactive interface for managing, monitoring, and visualizing data.
- I use React framework with @mui material for easy layout
- for backend I use node JS
